Arvedi Tubi Acciaio

Subject: Application of REACH – Communication to customers relative to the application of EC regulation no. 1907/2006.

Dear Customer,

In relation to your request regarding our position as regards the regulation in question, we wish to inform you that our activity is defined in accordance with REACH regulation no. 1907/2006 as Downstream User (DU) activity, in so far as a simple processor of articles, carbon steel coils, into welded tubes which as such are not subject to the intentional release of the substances contained therein in normal and reasonable conditions of use (art. 7 REACH).

More explicitly, the articles purchased by us in the EU or imported from non_EU countries do not pertain to the field of application of REACH regulations in so far as they are not subject to intentional release.

The Regulations, for the parts pertaining to us, are duly observed and applied by our company; we shall take particular care to requesting from our suppliers, in the upstream supply chain, full compliance on their part with the provisions relative to them as regards pre-registration, registration, authorisation, preparation of exposure scenarios and safety files, as provided in Arts. 6, 31 and 55 of the Regulations in question.

We remain at your disposal for any further clarification you may require.

Best regards
